The great moon adventure

Hi I am Lilly. I just got back from a crazy adventure. I bet you are just as excited to hear it as I am to tell it. Well it all started one morning when I was walking back from school and I saw a car driving straight at me. I jumped into the ditch and I got knocked out. I woke up and nothing looked the same.

The ground was gray and the sky was black. I saw planets. I was on the moon! I was just looking around when out in the distance I saw a spaceship. I went in. No one was there. There was just a little food. I knew I had to get back soon or I would starve. A day later I was messing with some buttons and I bumped one. The spaceship blasted off.

I landed in the woods by my house. My mom was just coming home from work. I told her all about it. She thought it was a dream. I knew it was

Not and I will never take that path from school ever again. Well, that is it.
I have had plenty of adventure for today. So I guess this is good by.

Then
enough

Did you like it?
